Education

BCIT, Design, Computer System Technology

- While attending BCIT I studied numerous aspects of digital technology in design, architecture and construction.

The University of British Columbia

- I briefly studied Mandarin Chinese while enrolled as a part time student at UBC, but I was also a volunteer staff member of the UBC learning exchange, a university-sponsored social outreach program in Vancouver. See enclosed documentation.

Capilano University

- Immediately following my graduation from West Vancouver high school in 2002, I attended Capilano College. I attended courses in Microeconomics, art, political science, philosophy and psychology.

To whom it may concern:

Re: Rex Joseph

I am pleased to provide this letter of reference for Dominus Rex Joseph, who was a volunteer at the UBC Learning Exchange. The UBC Learning Exchange is an innovative community-university engagement initiative based in the Downtown Eastside (DTES) of Vancouver. Rex volunteered with us from November 2013 through March 2015.

As a volunteer, Rex facilitated weekly Guitar workshops for local community members and patrons of the patrons the UBC Learning Exchange. Rex took a lead with recruitment for and promotion of the workshops and developing individual lesson plans for each participant. The guitar workshops were a big success and many community members benefited from having access to free one to one tutoring.

Rex was an organized and reliable volunteer. He showed great passion and enthusiasm for music and shared these skills with the local community. Rex often stepped up to support the program by helping to source new instruments, giving advice on how to improve the workshops and offering to help at other events. He was a friendly and dedicated volunteer who succeeded in creating a lively and engaging environment.

For more information about the UBC Learning Exchange, please refer to our website, and, if you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact me at the number below.

Sincerely,
